"In New England stands a college . . ." Any college is a community — a community of scholars. It is a community of scholars bound together by a common purpose — a purpose which transcends that of a "school" and which seeks to develop the person to his fullest and highest potential. This purpose is a Christian purpose which sees each person as a child of God and his maximum development as a divine imperative. Our college was born in the hearts of her founders and continues to grow in the lives of all who become a part of her. At the heart of her philosophy of education is the concept of Christ, "the Way, the Truth, and the Life." Branching outward from this hub, and as essential to it as spokes are to a wheel, are each of the areas of concern which the college nurtures — "competence, comprehension, companionship, competition, and commitment." This college is a unified community with a diversity of interests. This college is our college . . . Eastern Nazarene College.

E.N.C. our Alma Mater, Glorious for
aye. Laud her merits, Sing her praises,
Let our song ring free. Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Hail O E.N.C. . . .*

*. . . Clear her vision, high her purpose Lo, she stands serene; And her faith is sure undaunted,
Eastern Nazarene. We will prove our strong devotion. Loyal we will be; True to God and Alma Mater, True to E.N.C.*

Dedication

Your competence has imparted growth in our lives.

With comprehension you have guided our minds and hearts to most fulfilling experiences.

In companionship you have been examples of a deep inner love for God and man.

In competition your keen interest has been a vitalizing inspiration for us.

In your commitment to Christ and Eastern Nazarene College, you have been a light in our darkness.

In recognition of twenty years of devoted service to Eastern Nazarene College, the Nautilus staff dedicates the 1966 Nautilus to you.

"Skillful in all wisdom, endowed with knowledge, understanding learning, and competent to serve."

MPETENCE

Through their kindness, their vigilance, their precepts, their praise, our faculty and administration have opened many gates to higher learning for us. Through their example we have been led over many paths which they have already crossed. It is this wisdom gained from actual life which has made these men and women competent to serve. In devotion to their Christian purpose, our educators have combined personal values and knowledge to enable all individually and collectively to experience the best in Christian education.

A Tribute to Our President

Dr. Edward S. Mann is recognized as a Christian leader in the community of Eastern Nazarene College and in the community of Quincy. Through his leadership, he has become one of the most widely respected men of this area. His ability to guide personally the functioning of E.N.C. and to form close relationships with students as well as faculty has made this college an outstanding institution, academically and spiritually. Dr. Mann's unique involvement in all areas of the college life, the many years of service in which E.N.C. has seen its most rapid growth, and his solid dedication to this college and the highest Christian ideals have this year been deservedly climaxed with the dedication of the Edward S. Mann Student Center.

"... That you, being rooted and grounded in love, may have power to comprehend ..."

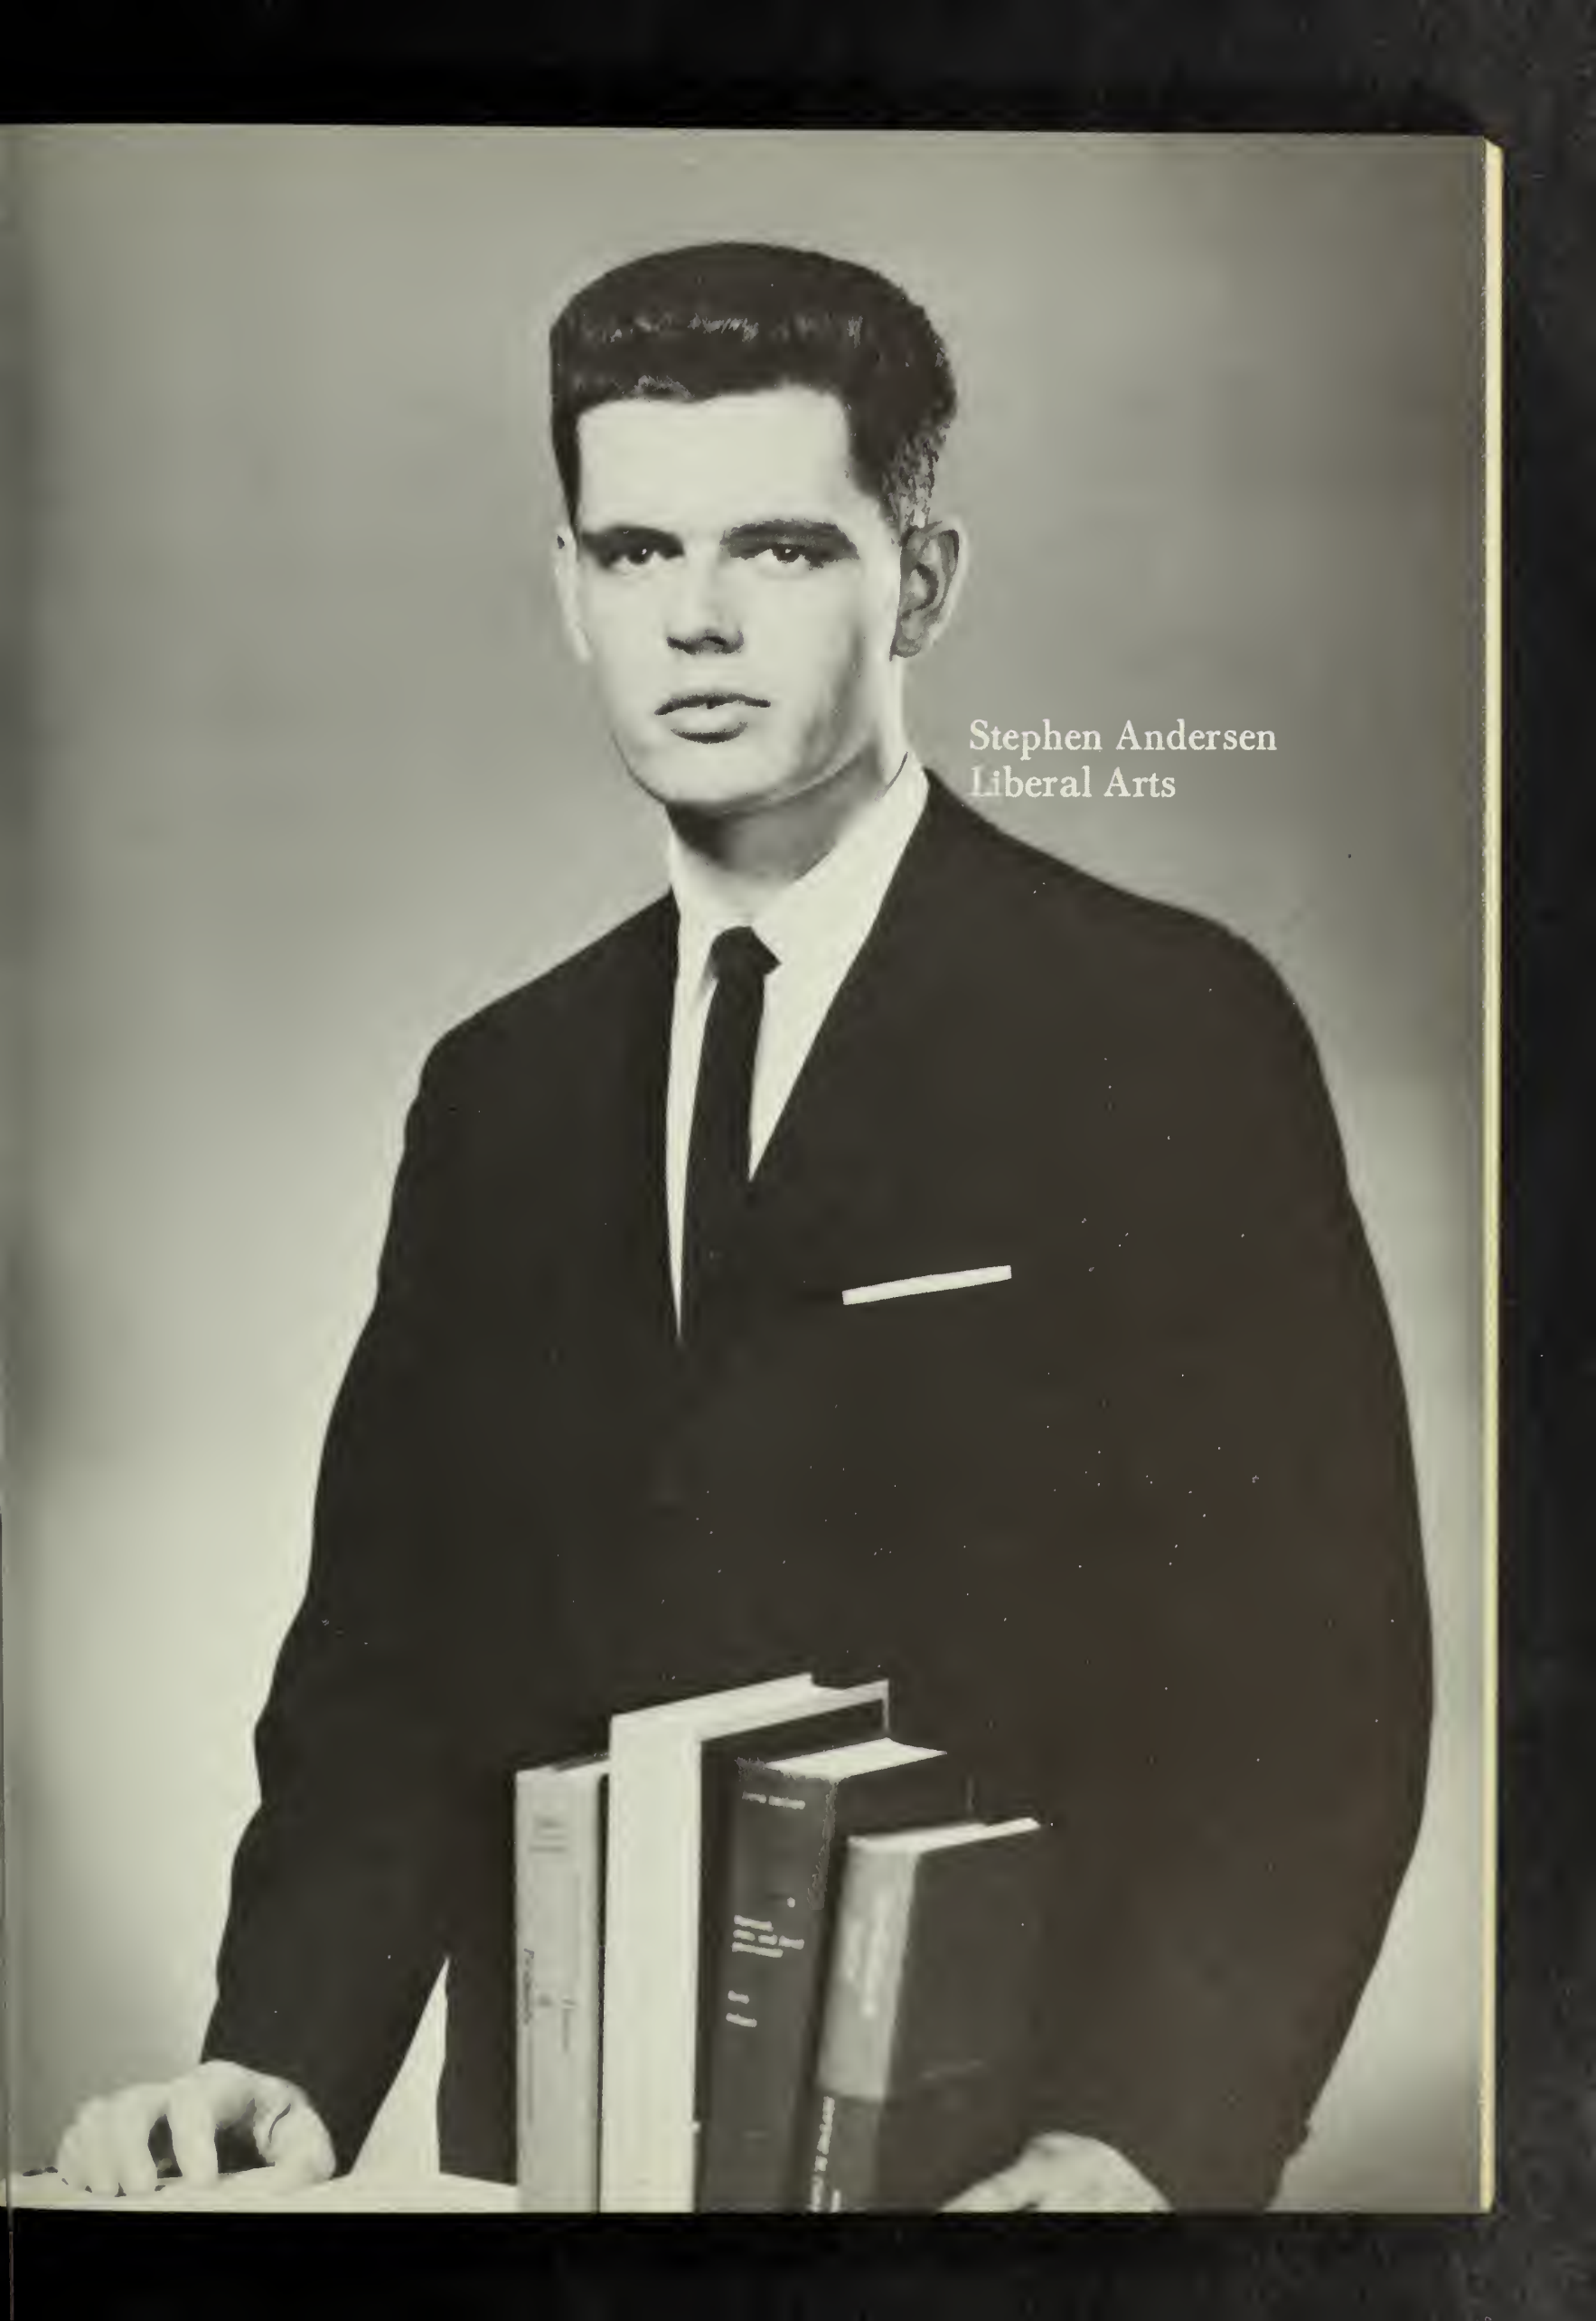

MPREHENSION

C omprehension is nurtured in the Eastern Nazarene College community to help students successfully meet the responsibilities of life. As individuals all students must face challenges and competing goals. But it is the college's desire through a liberal arts program to develop intellectual poise; inquiring and creative minds; aesthetic appreciation; moral, social, and religious convictions; and personal loyalty to Jesus Christ. Only an ambition within each individual to comprehend all these values will assure his future.

Registration lines - and another year begins.

CONSTITUTION

CONSTITUTION

"I am a companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts."

COMPANIONSHIP

As a Christian institution in society, the college desires that its faculty, students, and graduates shall possess a dynamic social conscience and make personal contributions toward bringing about a Christian world order that will express man's love for God and his fellow man, responsible freedom, and human worth. Through our companionship each one of us may experience a part of these ideals even when the occasion seems most insignificant. Our memories will always be great but how these memories have molded our lives will produce an even greater effect.

For the freshmen Eastern Nazarene College brings a curious new life. Freshman week gives each student a glimpse of campus life and is highlighted by a Friday "Get Acquainted" Party.

Frosh get acquainted with campus life.

Freshman week highlights with a party and box lunch auction.

The Women Four - the year's first entertainment.

Registration lines are more than "taxing."

Students pay out more money than they thought they earned - or than they did earn.

Registration lines begin the road to a four year-or-more complete college experience which E.N.C. perpetuates. Ahead there will be many future memories and more registration lines.

Student council serves as a spokesman for all areas of campus life. Goals of involvement, initiative, and individual maturation are its great concern.

Time for a clean sweep, Fletch?

Dean Wetmore and Prexy Tink informally discuss student affairs.

A Big Brother-Little Brother, Big Sister-Little Sister Breakfast is only a beginning toward a successful year of Student Council functioning.

The Big Sister-Little Sister breakfast was a success.

7:00 a little early - even for breakfast ?

Dormitory life and new roommates become a vital part of the individual experience. Self-discipline is mandatory for each is responsible for himself and his progress.

Late dorm life and 7:30 classes just don't mix.

The daily ritual.

All the pleasures of home.

A refuge from the cafeteria.

A release from studying.

A bed by the desk keeps the textbooks closed.

Life does not always remain at an even keel. Regulation of time and activity is necessary for physical health, academic achievement, social adjustment, and spiritual life in a daily schedule.

SHIELDS . . . Seated: John Scott, Tom Benson.
Standing: Bob Clemens, Dick Dressler, Stan Wood.

MANSION . . . Woody Badoud, Doug Atkinson, Chuck Eby.

Dormitory councils serve to regulate dorm life.

MUNRO . . . Row One: Barb Jacobs, Pat Sterling, Alice Cornell, Ruth Dickson. Row Two: Lynne Morse, Sally Schwanke, Mrs. Willwerth, Vonica Chase, Sue King, Elaine Sloan.

SPANGENBERG . . . Seated: Sue Locascio, Peg Gregory, Teresa Johnson, Juanita Parry, Nancy Parry. Standing: Karen Hayes.

MEMORIAL . . . Seated: Dave Van Hoewyk, Dave Anderson. Standing: Albie Pierson, Floyd Rhodes, Jim Tassinari, Chuck Melton, Bill Magnusson.

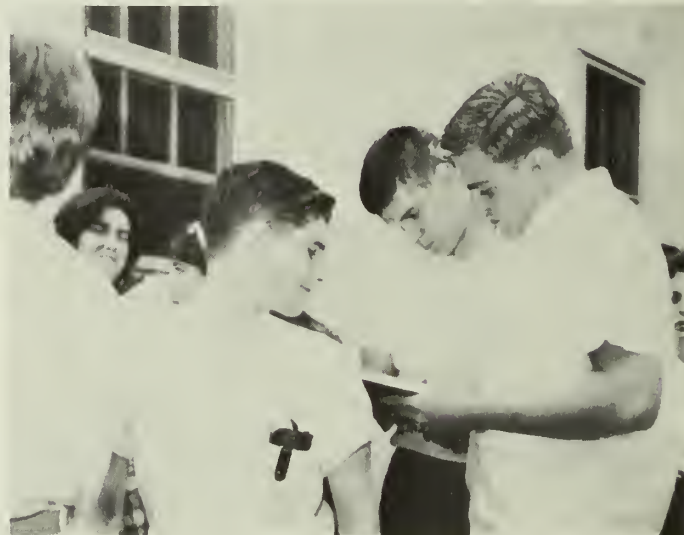

The arrival of yearbooks and society Rush Day displays bring remembrances of the past and remembrances for the future.

Yearbooks arrive in mid-September.

Sigma gives an all-out effort to entice the frosh.

Everyone looks for his own picture in the new books.

"Ma" Penha attracts the men to Kappa's Rush Day display.

Pensive moments in the dining hall.

The Dugout and dining hall — times of good fellowship or for personal thought.

Dugout donuts dwindle rapidly.

"o-o-o, that Italian flavor."

Moments for companionship.

Communication becomes a vital part of college life.

Contact with the outside world through daily media.

The library doesn't always mean study.

Building blocks for mind and stomach.

Time never ceases for friendship.

. . . . but the college cannot be completely effective without communing with our outside community.

Alone in thought.

Fall is filled with activity — some expected and much unexpected.

A big present for Guy Fawkes Day.

September Sunday - an unexpected "Fall".

The beard should've stayed back in Africa.

The Nautilus picture sale . . .

. . . brings back many memories.

The faculty and students on equal terms.

The donkey keeps Brad on his toes.

Intensive study reaps rewards.

Many books - few in use.

Classroom work demands attention.

The thought of quickly approaching mid-term testing brings intensive study and intake of knowledge that can never really be measured.

The processional continues for Founder's Day.

Founder's Day in early October means the return of many alumni and the laying of a cornerstone for the Student Center under construction.

Dr. Gardner - "Dr. Fred J. Shields - the man."

Dr. Gould unites with choir and onlookers in prayer.

Dr. Mann - the cornerstone laying for the E. S. Mann Student Center.

*Late October signals a 6:00
A.M. beginning of Twirp
Week capped by a Friday evening Fall Party . . .*

The guys laughed it up backstage before being twirped at the auction.

Auctioneer Rigden took the girls' money for an unknown guy.

The "Arch of Triumph" opened into an enjoyable Fall Party.

Lively discussion.

And Gary was talking to . . . ?

Some conversed; some ate.

*. . . a party where fellowship, food,
and fun are the order of the evening for all.*

A scheduled Homecoming and Who's Who Reception is replaced by a relaxing get-together because of the large-scale "Blackout" in the U.S. Some fright, some anxiety is apparent, but that is soon forgotten.

The "Blackout" meant a night off from the studios.

Cas entertained by candlelight.

Many sang the evening away.

For some the evening ended early.

Alumni Weekend initiates the start of basketball season with an E.N.C.-Gordon Homecoming game.

The pep band added enthusiasm to an already exciting night.

"Forget the personal opinion, Ray. It's a good record."

Alumni Weekend action saw E.N.C. and Gordon in a pre-season game.

The crowd was intense with interest.

Past Alumni President John Warren spoke.

Dr. Kauffman - the proud father and his camera.

A full gymnasium of spectators enjoy the evening's festivities and anticipate the crowning of one senior girl as E.N.C.'s reigning queen.

The procession of candidates begins a long and anxious walk to the place where the Queen will be announced.

1964 Queen Carol Morrison begins the procession escorted by her husband. Next to take the long walk was Lois Bell escorted by her husband, Professor Bell. Following were Peg Waltermire and Alan Webber, Karen Hayes and Tom Harding, Sally Kauffman and Chuck Zink, and Carole and Roger Good. Everyone waits and - Sally Kauffman is crowned 1965 Homecoming Queen.

A December Christmas Party brings a new dimension to the social calendar . . .

The crowd roared with the faculty antics.

Miss Cove went back to earlier days.

Coaches Boden, Bradley put on clothes of the yesteryear but size was another factor.

. . . the students see the faculty as they never saw them before.

Dr. "Johnnie" Rigden - a physics student even back then.

Mrs. Williamson - the pig-tailed girl with her dolly.

Prof. Winget - some people just couldn't help being themselves.

An enjoyable meal and presents for all suddenly issues in the Christmas spirit . . .

Dinner with a lot of perspective.

"Shouldn't I get served too?"

Santa was good to E.N.C.

Santa brought comfort for Dr. and Mrs. Mann - for the rest they deserve.

. . . and then a visit from Santa Claus Blaney.

Prof. and Mrs. Bell set the mood in song.

Sandy and Sallye entertained.

The true meaning of Christmas is found in another excellent two-night performance of the Messiah presented by the Choral Union, soloists, and conductor, Dr. Willwerth.

Dr. Willwerth and a naturally outstanding night of the Messiah.

The Messiah

A 100 voice performance with individual feeling.

Ruth Hamilton, Contralto . . . "He was despised and rejected of men, . . ."

Donald Sullivan, Tenor . . . "Every valley shall be exalted. . ."

Aletha Munro, Soprano . . . "I know that my Redeemer liveth . . ."

Robert Hale, Bass . . . "The trumpet shall sound . . ."

"Hallelujah! For the Lord God Omnipotent Reigneth."

A century - old walkway.

Winter begins its white fury and the campus takes on a new beauty. Students study for final exams prior to Christmas vacation and another semester culminates in term papers, reviews, and tests.

The campus laden with snow.

The pursuit of knowledge continues.

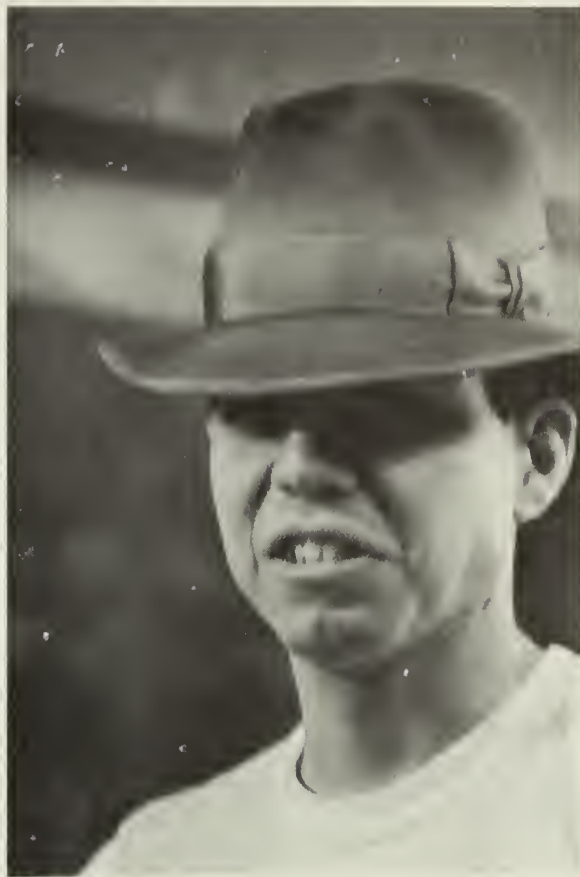

"Well, back on the farm . . ."

Ping pong in the seldom quiet rec. room.

"Chicago is not a bad place . . ."

And to release tension after the tests . . . Well, anything can happen !

Jones - crowned.

Well-worn classrooms now quiet.

The campus seems barren and cold as classes dismiss for the holidays.

A normally active parlor - empty.

Two students remain and live on store food.

The Ad. Building is again alive.

Suddenly, it's 1966! New Year's resolutions have been made and faculty, administrators, and students begin the new January team teaching — with more registration lines.

Another registration begins for a January course in team teaching.

Quiet times before another semester starts.

The seniors sneak off for a couple of days enjoyment — skiing, sledding, food, and late hours. The juniors prepare a reception and spaghetti dinner for their return.

All day preparation as the seniors travel back for the reception.

Too many hands in the pot.

The spaghetti was great - and abundant.

Hungry Seniors anxiously await their plates.

It's never too soon to dig in.

Lon Hart - and a prize for those late hours.

Everyone eats heartily and the hot spaghetti warms cold bodies. Awards, conversation, and relaxation from a forever wonderful memory.

The girls curiously bid higher . . .

. . . and the guys patiently wait to be twirped.

A second semester Twirp Week includes an afternoon of "The Twirping Game." Winter Weekend is soon to follow.

Rock takes time for a scratch.

Games occupy much of the time over Winter Weekend and everyone indulges wholeheartedly.

"Yes, Mary Jane. You lost."

Everybody anticipates the wink — but who gets it?

The crowd patiently waits . . .

. . . And "Ace" comes through.

Hockey, skating, and "Every man Today" complete an event-filled weekend where there was something for everyone.

Scene commences as "Everyman" lay dying.

The Drama Club performs successfully in their first organized attempt to introduce plays to campus life.

The "Devil" with "Conscience", "Death", and "Everyman".

Intensive research

At times study is not easy.

Extensive periods of work and thought often lend to a feeling of drudgery, of depression. There is always a need for a release of tension or for moments of relaxation.

Outdoor studying brings relief from a long winter.

Blossoms still on the trees in early Spring, the first warm weather encourages companionship and study outdoors. Spring ushers in a new dimension to the college life. Many festivities and moments to remember are in store for all.

Students enjoy campus fellowship.

The Friday that the Martians were due at noon - but the fellows were lucky.

It is the time of the year for the unusual, the unexpected, the mischievous, . . .

. . . and a time for open expression of feelings and attitudes.

Some students are strongly opinionated.

Time out for a good laugh.

Well, the face is familiar.

And now about the game . . .

We wonder why our food bill goes up.

The President's lunch had been hid. And who had to return it and apologize? Of course, Mrs. Heckert.

Individual personalities are unbound, unhindered. No one can help being himself.

Suddenly — the night of the Spring Formal. The “Chambered Nautilus” becomes an intriguing theme as each person unfolds a new chapter of his life.

Anxious men patiently wait for their dates.

The couple meets — each looking radiant.

Many couples meet on the threshold of a garden-like lobby . . .

First, the corsage . . .

. . . and then a flower for the man.

. . . and one of the greatest evenings of everyone's life begins.

Formals, tuxedos, corsages, the Streiffs, a delicious full-course dinner, the dining room over the water, the detailed planning of our own Judy Knox, and the superb atmosphere of Hugo's Lighthouse.

Deep interest — in the program and each other.

The table set for a luscious meal.

Our dear Miss Munro as a head table guest.

The Streiffs entertained for all.

Miss Munro's words were closely heeded.

MPETITION

The College seeks to develop a community of individuals each of whose character and personality find a total experience. In competition minds and bodies co-ordinate in teamwork and thought not only to learn of life's victories but to comprehend the most difficult losses. Physical and emotional health are important but the character of the student is at stake in fair and earnest competition. With these aims, all — the talented and their loyal supporters — benefit from the competition.

"Into thine hand I commit my Spirit; thou hast redeemed me, O Lord, faithful God."

MMITMENT

As a college of the Church of the Nazarene, Eastern Nazarene College purposes to serve that church by providing an educated laity and ministry loyal to Christ. The college seeks to interpret the message of the Christian church to society, and the problems of society to the church. E.N.C. is concerned primarily with the commitment of the student and the awakening and fostering of the kind of personal character and social relations in which the true, the beautiful, the morally good, and the holy are dominant.

Chaplain Milton Poole

Chaplain Milton Poole

The College Church of E.N.C. serves as a meaningful part in the lives of her students. Under the pastoral leadership of Rev. Milton Poole, the church becomes a part of college life in day by day work. Wollaston Church has ahead many days of growth materially and spiritually. As the church has grown, so has her members.

MAINE DISTRICT

"Since from His bounty I receive
Such proofs of love divine,
Had I a thousand hearts to give,
Lord, they should all be Thine."
